WASHINGTON'S PRAYER

(An excerpt from circular letter addressed to the Governors of all the States on disbanding the army. Dated June 8, 1783 at Headquarters, Newburg.)

I now make it my earnest prayer, that God would have you, and the State over which you preside, in his holy protection; that he would incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; to entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another, for their fellow citizens of the United States at large, and particularly for their brethren who have served in the field; and finally, that he would most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy, and to demean ourselves with that charity, humility, and pacific temper of mind, which were the characteristics of the Divine Author of our blessed religion, and without an humble imitation of whose example in these things, we can never hope to be a happy nation.

MY YISH

And when I look again
many years in the future may I recall the happy days of yesteryear.

May each familiar signature bring the memory picture of the original, some great, some famous, some gone from our ken, but all bound close by this token of comradeship.

So be it and let each classmate of mine who will, sign this Roster and strive honorably to complete the character structure, the foundation for which we have here and now begun.

TIME

Philosophers have explained space. They have not explained time. It is the inexplicable raw material of everything. With it, all is possible. Without it, nothing. The supply of time is truly a daily miracle, an affair genuinely astonishing when one examines it. You wake up in the morning and lo! your purse is magically filled with twenty-four hours of the unmanufactured tissue of the universe of your life! It is yours. It is the most precious of possessions. A highly singular commodity, showered upon you in a manner as singular as the commodity itself! For remark! No one can take it from you. It is unstealable. And no one receives more or less than you receive. Talk about an ideal Democracy! In the realm of time there is no aristocracy of wealth, and no aristocracy of intellect. Genius is never rewarded by even an extra hour a day.

SOMEDAY SOMEWHERE MAYBE

THE GOODS

You've got to have the goods, my boy,
If you would finish strong;
A bluff may work a little while,
But not for very long.

A line of talk all by itself
Will seldom see you through;
You've got to have the goods, my boy,
And nothing else will do.

The fight is pretty stiff, my boy;
I'd call it rather tough,
And all along the route are wrecks
Of those who tried to bluff—
They couldn't back their lines of talk
To meet the final test.

You've got to have the goods, my boy,
And that's no idle jest!
